Since the first MEDIC in Sept 2015, Biomedical Engineering & Technology (incubation) Centres have brought together over one hundred doctors and engineers every year to explore medical device innovation. These centers enable quickly traversing the 'valleys of death' from idea to invention to innovation to impact. In the last four years, BETIC team members filed 50 patents, incubated 11 startup companies, and licensed 5 products to industry. Come and learn their best practices of how to define, develop, deliver and deploy innovative medical devices.
